Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Art Unit: 2873

Restriction/Election of Species

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-42, drawn to a method of making a colored contact lens, classified in class 351, subclass 177.
- II. Claims 43-49, drawn to a contact lens, classified in class 351, subclass 160R.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions in Group I and Group II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as a contact lens where the image is not one of a cosmetic pattern, inversion mark, SKU code or identity code such as a contact lens in which a pattern is applied to produce a simulated postoperative distortion that could be expected by a patient as a result of various types of eye surgery.

Furthermore, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as a contact lens in which the pattern is not digitally produced. In addition, the product can be made by another and materially different process such as by a process that does not produce a colored contact lens.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for one Group is not required for the other Group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: Group I contains the following patentably distinct species. Group Ia, claims 2-15 directed to a species of method of making colored contact lenses in which an ink jet printing process is used; Group Ib, claims 17-25 directed to a species of method of making colored contact lenses in which an electrophotographic printing process is used; Group Ic, claims 26-30 directed to a species of method of making colored contact lenses in which a thermal transfer printing process is used; Group Id, claims 31-32 directed to a species of method of making colored contact lenses in which a photographic development printing process is used; and Group Ie, claims 33-38 directed to a species of method of making colored contact lenses in which a first layer of a colorant in a first pattern is printed on the lens, a second layer of a colorant in a second pattern is printed on the lens, and a coating solution with a binder comprising a monomer is used.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1 and 39 (which are apparently duplicate claims) are generic to Group I. For applicant's information, claims 16 and 40-42 can be examined together with the generic claims 1 and 39 without creating an undue burden on the examiner.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
